In 1985, John R. Smith, a Criminal Justice student founded Upsilon Chi Nu a subordinate chapter of the American Criminal Justice Assoc.: Lambda Alpha Epsilon (1937); this new chapter is located at Rutgers- Newark; it consists of individuals who are currently enrolled as Criminal Justice students, and University College students who work in the Criminal Justice field. Our advisor is George Bincarowsky, a professor and faculty advisor of Criminal Justice, who is presently teaching Criminal Justice at Rutgers- Newark.

Upsilon Chi Nu strives to promote better understanding and communication between agencies of Criminal Justice and our students by offering both social and informational activities. Upsilon Chi Nu is a non-profit organization in need of sponsors and volunteer speakers. Any assistance and or donations to make our goals and objectives a reality would be appreciated.
